

Social Media

Social media websites started as a fun way to connect with old and new friends alike, but they have quickly become an integral part of today's business world. Customers rely on social media to find information about hours and location, look up products and services, and even leave questions or complaints with the hope of getting a response from a company representative. Businesses that do not use social media are missing out on a variety of opportunities. If your clients are ready to take advantage of the benefits that social media can offer them, then Pennington Creative can help.

We can help your clients build up their Facebook and Twitter profiles with posts that link to their websites and blogs as well as posts featuring external links that are relevant to the company's products or services. Our team can also work with your clients to develop a unique social media strategy that caters to their needs and goals.

- WHY SHOULD YOU OFFER SOCIAL MEDIA POST SERVICES TO YOUR CLIENTS?

Every business needs an active social media presence to maintain a professional image and appeal to a wider variety of potential customers. Helping your clients with social media services will give them more time to focus on other aspects of their businesses.

- HOW CAN YOU SELL CLIENTS ON SOCIAL MEDIA POST SERVICES?

Talk to your clients about how today's customers want to be able to find information they need quickly and easily, and how they want to be able to contact companies just as quickly and easily. Social media makes it possible for customers to connect with companies without having to wait or leave their homes.

- WHAT MAKES PENNINGTON CREATIVE RIGHT FOR YOUR CLIENTS' SOCIAL MEDIA POST SERVICES?

Pennington Creative has worked with a variety of businesses, creating countless social media posts that draw in attention. Our writers and designers are happy to work with your clients to create unique social media strategies that will help them capture even more attention.

At Pennington Creative, we understand the importance that social media plays in a business' online reputation and potential success. That is why we offer services to help small businesses build a stronger online presence with more frequent social media posts. For more information on our social media services, contact us today!